Continuing Medical Education (CME)

Disclosure Process:

There is no minimum threshold for financial disclosures; individuals must disclose all financial relationships, regardless of the amount, with ineligible companies within the past 24 months. Individuals must disclose regardless of their view of the relevance of the relationship to the education. Companies that are ineligible to be accredited in the ACCME System (ineligible companies) are those whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients. Financial relationships are relevant if the educational content an individual can control is related to the business lines or products of the ineligible company.

The University of Tennessee Graduate School of Medicine Office of Continuing Education and Professional Development along with the Planning Committee and Course Directors of the North American Society of Pediatric Exercise Medicine have taken appropriate steps to mitigate relationships prior to the individuals assuming their roles.

Disclosures:

The Planners, Course Directors, or Presenters have no financial relationships with ineligible companies to disclose.
